LO: To write a piece of travel writing.

Having planned, drafted and edited your writing, you should now be ready to write your persuasive piece about your chosen country (England or Italy) into neat.

If you want to, and have the means to, you could print pictures of your country, to fit with the content of the paragraphs you have written and stick these in as you write up your work.

Remember to use your best handwriting when writing up your draft. You should also be using the handwriting pen that went home with you in your pack.

I cannot wait to read what you have written about your chosen country!
