LO: To appropriately present information to a particular audience.

This is your chance to be creative! Using the facts about the country you researched, I would like you to find another, interesting way to present that information. You could:

- Film a travel program episode
- Create a leaflet
- Write a poem
- Make a children's book (such as a 'lift the flaps' book)
- Make a 3D model with labelled features

Remember to keep your work factual but interesting. Think carefully about the vocabulary that you use to present the information, as well as the target audience for your presentation of the information (i.e. use more simple vocabulary for the children's book, formal language for the leaflet and a mixture of formal but humorous for the travel programme).
